RE: Proceeding 95-31

To Whom It May Concern:

I am writing to support the limitation on the number of licenses filed in the upcoming NCE window. Entities who use the "shotgun" approach to filing should not be considered as legitimate local community organizations, as they are most likely more similar to national franchises.

The remaining frequencies should be given to local community organizations, and entities filing more than 1 application should lose a point in the review process. I don't understand the FCC leniency with regard to filing multiple applications. This should be strongly discouraged given the limited frequencies available in this window. To help reduce the large number of conflicting applications, organizations should be limited to 1 or 2 applications.

Respectfully,

George Robbins
